5. YEAR IN REVIEW

The Chairman reflected on the 2019/20 year and reflected on the Trust's new branding and highlights from the past twelve months.

He Tohu Ora

After extensive community engagement, He Tohu Ora was launched at this meeting, and the Trust committed to providing ongoing communications to the community to ensure it is understood how we intend to use it for all trust decisions moving forward.

Covid 19

The Chairman reflected on Covid19 and its unprecedented impacts on our region, and commended the efforts of Eastland Group for providing safe and reliable infrastructure when we needed it most.

Airport Terminal

The first phase of the Airport terminal opened late last year, second stage is expected to open at the end of 2020.

Climate Commitments

The Trust and Eastland Group have committed to the Climate Leader Coalition and as part of this commitment both organisations are tracking their emissions.

Regional Strategy

As our region continues to face challenges, TEAP, Rau Tipu Rau Ora and He Tohu Ora will remain high priorities in the Trust's plans for the next year. It was noted that through partnerships with community groups is how our region's potential will be unlocked.

The TT CEO provided an operational update on the past year, key highlights included:

- Financials
- Covid19 impacts
- Sawmill update
- Trust fund value
- Business support

Key highlights from the year were shown within a video to represent community-based support the Trust has provided.

The CEO thanked the Trust team and their continued commitment to our community.

Eastland Group

Matt Todd, CEO of Eastland Group provided an update on the last year. Highlights of which included:

- Financials – Overall the group made a loss in April, but rebounded strongly
- Eastland Port- first affected by Covid19, had a hard couple of months but ended up delivering great results considering the climate
- Community initiatives - Which included Titirangi walking track and log yard open day
- Gisborne Airport – Proud iwi partnerships, travel through airport is back to 80% of pre-Covid19
- Essential operations during lockdown
- Future – Continuing to look for new geothermal projects and to future-proof the Port to provide avenues for other products that our region produces.

6. HE RANGITAPU, HE TOHU ORA – TAIRAWHITI WELLBEING FRAMEWORK

The Chairman introduced He Rangitapu, He Tohu Ora to those present at the meeting, and reiterated how important this framework is to the Trust's kaupapa and its importance in our decision making going forward. This approach will give shared accountability with both the Trust and Community accountability in our decisions, as the Trust has directly taken community feedback on board in the making of this framework.

This project started in 2018 as part of strategic review to really understand how our decisions can impact the wellbeing of our communities. After considering both national and international research, the Trust created a report which provided a baseline for us to speak to community about what matters most. Major themes that came through were facilities, access to facilities by children and young people, young children and rangatahi and mental health.

Ultimately, this framework and its aspirations should help us to live the lives we want in the way that matters to us.

As set out in the Trust's Statement of Intent, the next steps are to operationalise the framework, confirm indicators and impact tools and finally releasing a distribution strategy and online application system. This new framework is not a barrier to making applications. The Trust will work with you on this journey.

The beneficiaries can expect to see a range of communications to further explain the framework in the coming weeks, we encourage you to speak directly with us if you have any questions.

7. 2019/2020 ANNUAL REPORT AND 2020/2021 STATEMENT OF INTENT

As part of the Trust Deed, Trust Tairawhiti is undertaking its duty to perform a Triennial review to help align Eastland Group, He Tohu Ora and our Deed. Other initiatives high on our agenda will be Rau Tipu Rau Ora, TEAP and He Tohu Ora. Copies are available to take home after this meeting.
